A Weman's Remedy for Inflamatory Ehruma-

I am an old sufferer from inflamatory rheumatism. The past winter it came upon me sgain, very acute and severe. My joints swelled and became inflamed, sore to touch or almost to look at. Upon the urgest request of my mother in-law, I tried Chamberiain's Pain Balm to reduce the swelling and ease the pain, and to my agreeable surprise it did both. I have used three fifty cent bottles and believe it to be the finest thing for rheumatism, pains and swellings extant. D. E. Carr. 1235 Harrison St., Kansas City, Mo. The present found-trip rate, $20.65, which we quote, is not as low a rate as the Santa Fe have ad-vocated, but the public will bear in mind that it was through the insistance of the Santa Fe management that this reduced rate was made. In patronizing the Santa Fe you favor the line that is responsible for this reduction in the rate. You also favor yourself for the reason that it is the idest road, rock ballasted and free from the dust so appropriag to travelers in the dry season. You also save one half a day at home, as the train leaves about moon

ALL SORTS OF OMELETS.

Here Are Many Variations for Breakfast and Tea Dishes. That omelets are excellent in winter

nobody can deny. But omelets in summer are a positive blessing. They are light, delicate dishes that can be eaten when the mind revolts at meat and will have none of fish. And there is enough variety in them to avoid monotomy, even if they are made almost a daily feature Plain Omelet—Beat the whites of six eggs stiff, and the yolks to a thick batter. Add to the yolks a cup of milk, pepper and salt, and a tablespoonful of bread crumbs soaked in milk. Then stir the whites in lightly. Have ready in a hot frying pan a large lump of butter. When it begins to boil pour in the omelet and set over a clear fire. Avoid stirring it, but as the eggs become firm slip a broad knife or cake turner under them to guard against their burning. In less than ten minutes the omelets will be done. To get the omelet safely out cover the frying pan with a hot plate, bottom upward, and upset the pan. Eat at once.

Ham, Tongue or Chicken Omelet-Make as plain omelet is made, but when it is done sprinkle the minced meat over the top. Then with the cake turner fold the omelet in half, inclosing the meat. Or, if you prefer stir the minced meat into the omelet mixture just before frying.

Cauliflower or asparagus omelet is made by stirring very finely chopped when once found, they buzz about cauliflower or asparagus tips into the eggs just before pouring into the pan. Season highly.

For tomato omelet spread tomato over the surface when cooked and double. For herb omelet stir into the plain omelet mixture just before cooking two tablespoonfuls of chopped parsley, green thyme and sweet mar-Cheese omelet is made by lightioram. ly stirring in grated cheese with chopped parsley. Sweet omelets are delicious as desserts for home luncheons and teas. To make omelet souffle by frying beat the whites of six eggs the unfortunate persons who suggest until they can stand alone. Beat the yolks stiff and stir into them slowly four tablespoonfuls of sugar. Put into a frying pan two tablespoonfuls of butter and heat to boiling. Stir a teaspoonful of vanilla into the omelet, whisk the white in very lightly and pour into the pan. It will cook in a few minutes, but the turning knife must be used constantly to keep it from sticking to the bottom or sides of the pan, as the sugar increases the tendency to scorching. Turn out upon a very hot dish, sprinkle with powdered sugar and serve at once. Baked omelet souffle requires six instead of four tablespoonfuls of sugar, and is flavored with the juice and half the grated rind of a lemon. Mix as for fried omelet, pour into a buttered dish, and bake for five or six minutes in a quick oven. Scrve from the same dish.

Apple Omelet-Peel, core and stew three large apples. Beat smooth. Add a teaspoonful of butter, three tablespoonfuls of sugar and a little nutmeg. Beat the whites and yolks of four eggs separately. Soak about a half table spoonful of bread crumbs in some milk: add to the yolks. Stir the yolks into the apples, add a little rose water and stir in the wnites. Warm and butter a deep bake dish, pour in the mixture and bake until delicately browned.—

Potters are among those who suffer most accutely from the inhalation of dust. The aspect of the potteries is, in truth, funereal enough for anything; the people pass from the white powder of the factories out into a blackness of street worse than that of Manchester: the forlorn and dilapidated appearance of a great part of the streets and buildings, the ragged edges of grimy brick which forms the outskirts of the series of towns, and above all the dreary accumulations of broken potsherds from the factories and slng from the adjoining mines are, perhaps, not unfitting surroundings for a district where it is the regular thing for the people to finish with this life before they have reached two score and ten. A FOURTH OF JULY IN MEXICO. The Texan Had Fought Against the Flag, but His Heart Was True.

A number of old-timers were discussing their Fourth of July experiences The visitor at Chicago's chance was the other evening. "In 1876 I spent seated at a table in one of the high the glorious Fourth' in Chihuahua, priced restaurants on the exposition Mex. and the Americans there came near having a chance to fight for the flag," said Dave O'Neil. "Most of the Americans were southerners and Texans, and all were determined that the Fourth should be properly celebrated. The Mexicans at that time did not like Americans, and there was lots of bad blood between the two nationalities. The day of the Fourth early in the morning we ran up the flag of the United States on the flag-pole in front of the hotel where the Mexican flag waved on fete days. All went well unto spout twelve o'clock.

> "By that time the Mexicans began to gather courage from liquor and were ugly. A crowd collected around our flag and made slighting remarks about our country and celebration. The crowd increased in numbers and courage, and finally someone suggested that they tear down the flag. The suggestion pleased the mob and they started to follow it out. But before they succeeded a his Texan backed up against the flar-pole. He drew a couple of six-shooters, and, pointing them at the crowd, drawled out: 'By the eternal, I fit agin that flag for four years, but the first man that tooches it I'll blow him to tophet.' The mob drew back afraid, but became wild with anger and reformed to raid the pole and its brave defender.

"The news of the Texan's stand spread like wildfire, and all the Americans in town ran to his assistance. We were about two hundred in number and scattered the mob of Mexicans guard around the pole. The military governor of the state sent for a committee to confer with him. We insisted that he should send a company of soldiers to guard the flag before we would withdraw our guard. He had to consent or we would have captured the town, garrison of soldiers, and all. The flag waved proudly that day and for two days afterwards, and all the time it was guarded by Mexican soldiers. and the Texan, who insisted upon seeing that the soldiers did their duty."-Denver Field and Farm.

BOSTON'S WHIPPING POST.

Some of the Cruel Punishments Inflicted in Poritan Days.

The first whipping-post in Boston was erected in front of the old meeting-house. This old meeting-house, the first church of Roston, was an unpretentious structure of wood, and was situated on State street, on the ground which is now occupied by Brazer's not write my name, was in pain all the building, and in it preached the first time, and would have to get up and ministers of the town—John Wilson walk the floor in agony; now, I have and John Cotton—and thither went to scarcely any pain." worship John Winthrop and Richard Bellingham and all their zealous Puritanical followers. The church remained here until 1640, when it was removed to that part of what we now call Washington street, nearly opposite the head of .State street, on the site of the present Rogers building.

But the whipping post remained in its original position for some years afterward, until it was removed to near the West street gate of the common, and public whippings, whether deserved or not, continued to be inflicted as late as 1803.

Samuel Breck, in his recollections, "The large whipping-post, painted red, stood conspicuously and permanently in the most public street in town. It was placed in State street, directly under the windows of a great writing school which I frequented, and from them the scholars were indulged in the spectacle of all kinds of punishment suited to harden their hearts and tantalize their feelings. Here women were taken from a huge cage, on which they were dragged on wheels from prison, and tied to the post, with bare backs, on which thirty or forty lashes were bestowed, amid the screams of the culprits and the uproar of the mob. A little farther in the street was to be seen the pillory, with three or four fellows fastened by the head and hands, and standing for an hour in that helpless posture, exposed to gross and cruel insult from the multitude, who peited them incessantly with rotten eggs and every repulsive kind of garbage that could be collected." Almost every kind of misdemeanor was punishable with whipping, and the number of stripes varied according to the enormity of the offense. Here are some of the instances: On the 30th of November, 1630, and possibly before the regular whipping-post was set up, a man was whipped for shooting at a fowl on the Sabbath daymatter. There was a grim bit of humor enacted at the court on this day, for the first business transacted was to fine one of the assistants five pounds for whipping two persons without delay your application for sleeper nutil the last moment. Chair cars and day another of the assistants being present, as the act provided. On the 4th of September, 1632, a man was ordered "to be severely whipped for cursing, swearing, then justifying the same and glorving in it:" and another man, who had sold a gun, pistol, powder and shot to Monlowampate Sagamore James), was whipped and branded in the face with a hot iron. On December 9, 1640, one Mrs. Oliver was whipped for reproaching the magistrates, and she 'stood without trying and bore her punishment with a masculine spirit, glorying in her suffering." But there was something more, for some-time after "she had a cleft stick put on her tongue half an hour for approaching the elders."

In September 1651, Obadiah Holmes, for being a Baptist, was whipped [with exceeding severity, yet he magistrates it was as with rods of roses, although the blood streamed from his cut and bruised body

Horred Gardiner, with a child at her reast, was whipped for being a Quaker in September, 1657. Yet in the midst of her sufferings "she kneeled down and prayed the Lord to forgive them!"-Boston Herald.
